

CME/CNE Evaluation & Certification Instructions

The American College of Cardiology Foundation (ACCF) will e-mail an online evaluation to each participant in this CME/CNE activity.

The online evaluation must be completed in order to receive a CME/CNE Certificate.

The CME/CNE Certificate will be issued electronically following submission of the evaluation.

If you do not receive an e-mail from ACCF within seven days of the conference, please contact the Chapter office at 614-859-2223.

Disclaimers

Abstracts and articles contained in this program guide have been reprinted with permission.

This information is provided for general medical education purposes only and is not meant to substitute for the independent medical judgment of a clinician relative to diagnostic and treatment options for a specific patient's medical condition.

The American College of Cardiology Foundation does not warrant the completeness, accuracy or usefulness of any opinions, advice, services or other information provided through this activity. In no event will the ACCF be liable for any decision made, or action taken, in reliance upon the information provided through this activity.

Accredited status does not imply endorsement by the ACCF of any commercial products displayed in conjunction with this activity.

ACCF reserves the right to modify faculty and program without notice.

Learner Bill of Rights

The American College of Cardiology Foundation (ACCF) recognizes that you are a life-long learner who has chosen to engage in continuing medical education to identify or fill a gap in knowledge or skill; and to attain or enhance a desired competency. As part of ACCF's duty to you as a learner, you have the right to expect that your continuing medical education experience with ACCF includes the following (you will be queried at the end of the activity regarding your impression):

Content that:

- Promotes improvements or quality in healthcare
- Is current, valid, reliable, accurate and evidence-based
- Addresses the stated objectives or purpose
- Is driven and based on independent survey and analysis of learner needs, not commercial interests
- Has been reviewed for bias and scientific rigor
- Offers balanced presentations that are free of commercial bias
- Is vetted through a process that resolves any conflicts of interest of planners and faculty
- Is evaluated for its effectiveness in meeting the identified educational need

A learning environment that:

- Is based on adult learning principles that support the use of various modalities
- Supports learners' abilities to meet their individual needs
- Respects and attends to any special needs of the learners
- Respects the diversity of groups of learners
- Is free of promotional, commercial and/or sales activities

Disclosure of:

- Relevant financial relationships that planners, teachers and authors have with commercial interests related to the content of the activity
- Commercial support (funding or in-kind resources) of this activity

ACCF Disclosure/Conflict of Interest Statement/Off-Label Statement

As a provider accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), the American College of Cardiology Foundation (ACCF) must ensure balance, independence, objectivity and scientific rigor in all of their directly sponsored or jointly sponsored educational activities. Provider(s) and faculty participating in a sponsored activity are required to disclose to the audience any significant financial interests or other relationships he/she or a member of their immediate family may have (1) with the manufacturer(s) of any commercial product(s) and/or provider(s) of commercial services discussed in an educational presentation and (2) with any commercial supporters of the activity. ACCF is committed to providing its learners with high-quality activities and materials that promote improvements and quality in health care and not a specific proprietary business or commercial interest. The intent of this disclosure is not to prevent participation in sponsored educational activities by persons with a financial or other relationship, but rather to provide learners with information on which they can make their own determination whether financial interests or relationships may influence the credited activity. Any individual refusing to provide adequate disclosure with this policy will be prohibited from participation in any future ACCF education activity.

ACCF assesses conflict of interest (COI) with its faculty, planners, managers, staff and other individuals who are in a position to control the content of CME/CNE-credited activities. All relevant potential conflicts of interest that are identified are thoroughly vetted through a process that includes course directors and appropriate peer review by education committee chairs/members, for fair balance, scientific objectivity and validity, and patient care and safety recommendations.

ACCF also requires that all faculty disclose their intent to discuss any unlabeled/unapproved uses of drugs and/or devices during their presentations.
