OHIO-ACC SPRING SUMMIT

THE RITZ-CARLTON, CLEVELAND

APRIL 29, 2015

HOW TO OBTAIN CME/CNE

The American College of Cardiology Foundation (ACCF) will e-mail an online evaluation to each participant in this CME/CNE activity.

The online evaluation must be completed in order to receive a CME/CNE Certificate.

The CME/CNE Certificate will be issued electronically following submission of the evaluation.

If you do not receive an e-mail from ACCF within fourteen days of the conference, please contact the Chapter office at ohioacc@gmail.com.

MEETING OBJECTIVES

Discuss the newer available therapies for aortic valve disease, including TAVR & appropriately refer patients for these treatments.

Review the literature and guidelines on the use of statin therapy.

Address & apply the guidelines and the treatment options available for the heart failure patient to minimize re-admissions.

Compare and contrast the most current interventional treatment strategies for atrial fibrillation.

Integrate the evidence-based research to make appropriate therapeutic decisions to treat patients with hypertrophic cardiomyopathy while discussing the role of ICDs in the prevention of sudden cardiac death.
